The "Big Six Band" will give an open air concert Christmas afternoon. Come out and hear the boys.

Our Christmas Supplement this week speaks for itself and for the live business men of this place.

The cases before the Mayor for the violation of the 10 o'clock ordinance, created some considerable excitement last week, so to speak. It was very musical for a time, but things finally quieted down and the Mayor's court is still grinding.

The police raided a soup house on Market street Monday night. The parties brought before the Mayor were dismissed after they were informed that no more gatherings of the kind would be allowed at this place.

Chas Young and Maggie Kelley were married at the residence of Rev. J. F. Williams, Wednesday evening.

Mrs. McGrath, of our town do one of the office housekeeper at the Reform Farm, and has engaged as attendant on Miss Shaffer, of Lancaster, an invalid, and will spend the winter in the South.

Uncle Will Kreighbaum of Taylorville is visiting relatives in Logan this week. Mr. K. was a prominent contractor and builder of the Black Diamond railroad, which road he says will be in operation soon after New Year.

The newly elected officers of the Mingo Lodge, No. 171, F. & A. M., will be installed tonight at the Lodge room in the James block.

David Lehman has made a reputation as a climber as well as a diver. Last week he scaled the high fence at the city prison and has gone hence, like a bad—night mare. Mr. Lehman played on the sympathies of Turkey Myers, and Mr. Myers and the prison got left. The authorities ought to dig up those old relics of barbarism, the ball and chain. They would be a good thing on a wooden leg.

The case of Belle Westlake, who was fined $25.00 and cost for violating the 10 o'clock ordinance, was taken up to the Common Pleas court on a writ of error, but was sent back to the Mayor's court, Judge Wright sustaining the action of Mayor Steinman. In the case of William McCarthy, who was fined the same amount, there has been a suspension of judgement until such time as he may be able to come before the Court.

We still insist that the Council has some rights the rich man may respect, when he gets ready, but which the poor man must respect at the beck of the Council. God is kind to the poor in giving them plenty of children, and the promise of a place in Abraham's bosom.

Will Haines was brought before Mayor Steinman one day last week, and fined $5 and cost for assaulting John Sniff. The trouble occurred at the Fire Brick Works, and it is said the assault was not only uncalled for, but vicious. Defendant was committed to jail until fine and costs are paid.

Miss Adalie Gouley, of Cleveland, Pa., is the guest of Miss Ada Tipton, this city.

Pleasant Surprise Party.

Last Saturday was the 20th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Floyd's marriage, and in accordance with the customs of our Logan people, the couple were given a surprise.

The movement was successfully engineered by Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Gould, Mrs. Stiers, Sheriff Gallagher, Ben White and the Floyd family. A hundred and more of friends, in the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd, who had been adroitly kept away, took possession of the house, and managed things in away to suit their own sweet wills.

It is needless to say that when Mr. and Mrs. Floyd came home and found the house full of people, both were paralytically surprised.

The friends had procured a handsome china set as a present, which was tendered to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd by Mr. S. H. Bright in his usual happy style. Mr. Floyd responding in fitting terms of acknowledgment. Rev. Thomas pronounced a blessing and a benediction, and an elegant supper followed; the ladies having made ample preparation for the delicious and delightful closing exercise.

With the many friends of Jack Floyd and his wife, the Sentinel unites in tender congratulations, and joins in the wish that life may be long continued to the happy couple, and that twenty years more and more may be vouchsafed to them.

We will add that Ben White was elected historian for the occasion, and when he has written "Twenty Years of Married Life," the article will appear in the Sentinel.

An Honest Boy.
On last Sunday Charles Deistley son of our Marshal, employed in the office of Dr. Campbell, picked up an envelope on the street, which on examination contained nearly one hundred dollars. The boy with manly and honest impulse gave the valuable find to his employer. Certain papers in the envelope will enable the loser to be identified. Charles is to be applauded for his honesty in not keeping the money, and if he does not get a handsome Christmas gift from the owner, he will be happy in the consciousness of having done right.

Some wag about town last week filled a carpet sack with old iron and started it on the rounds. The grip weighed about 75 lbs. The game was this: Some person would strike some other person and ask if he wanted to make a quarter. Of course they did and then they would be instructed that some runner up at Waver's or down at Hartman's, wanted the grip sack carried to them.

Then the victim started and was followed in his wanderings by the eyes of an admiring public. It was worth a dollar to carry this bag one square and there are at least a dozen men in town who decline to discuss the subject.

The young folks of McArthur will give a Ball on Christmas eve, an invitation to which has been received, and for which we are thankful. The McArthur folks are hospitable hosts, and we know that any of our young folks who attend will have a delightful time.

The Bazar at the People's Rink last Thursday under the auspices of the Presbyterian church was a great success, the net receipts being something like $120. The ladies furnished an elegant dinner and supper at a very low figure, and were well patronized by the business men.

Miss Adalie Gouley, of Cleveland, Pa., is the guest of Miss Ada Tipton, this city.

A Bold Burglary.

Some unknown parties entered the store of Tristich & Stiers last night, and succeeded in cracking the safe and getting away with $183.87.

The burglars raised a window in John Inscho's wagon maker shop and procured & chiseled there which the shutters at the rear of the store were pried open and an entrance effected.

There was a hole bored in the safe about six inches below the lock, and it is supposed the charge of powder was put in there. The shock must have been terrific, as the door of the safe was blown to pieces and the lock badly shattered.

There were several persons in the neighborhood that heard a noise the latter part of the night, but having no suspicion of such work did not raise the alarm. There is a difference of opinion as to who done the work. Some are inclined to think the job might have been done by home talent, while others think the work shows the skill of a professional crackman. No arrests have been made at this writing.

Several suspicious characters were loitering about town yesterday, and if the authorities stir themselves the authors of this dastardly job may be apprehended and brought to justice.

The Teachers' Reading Circle of Hocking county, will meet at the Union School House, December 30th, at 1:30 p. m. The following is the programme:

Reading—Selections from Hamlet, Mr. J. C. Stone.
Declaration—Selection from Wadsworth, Miss Lehman.

Paper—Life and character of Socrates, Mr. A. E. Price.
Paper—Why should a teacher study psychology, A. Leonard.
All are invited to be present.

EMMA DOWNEY, Sec.

There is a banner on exhibition at Kessler Bros. and named by Mrs. Webb Poston, of Nelsonville, that is attracting considerable attention. The work shows a high degree of talent. Mrs. Poston has another picture there that shows the skill of a trained hand and a proper conception of the best effects in the grouping of colors.

We have been shown the original plat of Logan, made by Governor Worthington in 1816. The plat is the property of Col. Rempel, and is very valuable, not only as a record, but for its antiquity and memories. There is not a name on this original plat, now a property owner in Logan.

Mr. Virgil C. Lowry, Prosecuting Attorney of Hocking county, was in the city on Tuesday—Lancaster Republican.

Tom Morarity, who has been in the town for a number of years, returned home a few days ago with his bride and is now visiting his family in this place. Tom was connected with the Hocking Valley Road for a long time and is an expert telegraph operator.

If the Gas company could only manage to keep the head and tail of the Governor both up at one time, the gas would improve.

Death of Geo. Spencer.

Last week we made a note of the shooting of Geo. Spencer, at Old Straitsville, by Henry Bangard.

On Friday evening, Dec. 8th, Geo. Spencer went to the Baptist Church in Old Straitsville to attend a singing school that was then in progress. While there he asked for the company of Barbary Bangard, but she refused to allow him to take her home.

Spencer then followed her outside, and as she claims, insulted her, as he had repeatedly done before. Finally he urged his suit so strong that the girl slapped him. But this did not stop him, and annoyed at her continued refusal to accept his company, he pulled his revolver and shot her through the arm. Her brother, Henry, who was present, then returned the fire, fatally wounding Spencer, who died at nine o'clock, Saturday morning, Dec. 18th, and was buried the day following at the cemetery at Gore.

Wednesday morning, young Bangard, who has been in this city since the death of Spencer, left for New Straitsville with his attorney, L. J. Burgess, where he was to have a preliminary hearing before Justice Newman.

The defendant expects to prove that the shooting was done in self defense.

The dying statement of Spencer and the Bangard girl's story agrees up to the time of the shooting. In this statement he does not show that he did admit to it immediately after it was done.

It was supposed at first that the Bangard girl had done the shooting, and the officers appeared at her home with a warrant for her arrest. Her brother explained that she was the one wanted, and went voluntarily before the Justice and was admitted to bail in the sum of $800.

This was following the night of the shooting.

The Bangards are members of the Baptist Church and are highly esteemed by some of the best people about Oreville where they live. The father of the family has been dead about fourteen years, and since that time the mother has been able to keep her children together. Henry Bangard is highly spoken of. He is a young man that does not drink or gamble; is quiet and the man to shoot rashly or without some great provocation. We have not at this writing learned the result of the preliminary hearing.

Christmas at the Orphan's Home.

It would help make Christmas happier to every parent, to every little boy in Logan, if on Christmas day, a present would be sent to the little orphan boys and girls at the Home.

In the abundance, at least in the sufficiency we may possess, it will make the day warmer to hearts and hearths, if a gift, a token of remembrance be sent to children out of the Poor House.

Any of our little boys and girls, grown up people and parents as well, who wish to send gifts to the orphans, and have no means of their own for getting out, can have them forwarded by leaving at the Sentinel office not later than 9 o'clock, Christmas morning.

The Sentinel has provided for a team and "our boys" will carry some gifts, and will be glad to carry there from others that may be left in our charge.

Mr. El Scanlan has resigned his position as Road Master on the O. & W. V. R. R., and accepted a place on the Duck Creek Road. Mr. Scanlan's successor has not yet been named.
